Ok....without further delay.... I present to you the crown jewel of my unholy Trinity of hexes....the Mummy oil hex.....this hex is by far one of my favorite simply because it's what I call a double-action hex... First, it traps a person's soul and contains it so that no harm can come to you or your property.....but, secondly....the target begins to rot away.....rot away financially....rot away health wise, and rot away in the areas of their personal love life....in my personal experiences with this hex.....I've seen target's businesses close down in a matter of weeks.... Their health falling off drastically... Resulting in being hospitalized or death 💀.....in the areas of love, the target can't keep a lover for more than a few weeks.....marriages fall apart... Multiple divorces occur etc.....Now, to make this happen.....get some Mummy oil from a local hoodoo botanica of your choice.....add it to a glass container at least 3 times larger than the oil's original bottle.....add to this oil some Guinea pepper also called grains of paradise ....add some grains of sand....then add a piece of paper that you scribed the victim's name upon with dragon's blood ink..... Close the lid and place this glass container in a safe spot.....so long as it remains undisturbed, the victim's soul shall remain yours forever.....💀🐍💀🐍💀
